Region Serviced: What area or region do you service? Be sure to use any and all descriptions that include areas in your region of service. This is very important for search engines that will bring traffic directly to your page. Try to imagine a customer searching for a tent company. They might be in the city of Detroit Michigan, but be searching using the term "Tent Rental Dearborn Heights" which happens to be a suburb of Detroit. If you only listed that you service Detroit, you would be very unlikely to come up on any search for the above request. Example: Detroit, Lincoln Park, Dearborn, Windsor, Highland Park, etc.

Your Region of Service:

Description/History of your company: If you have a general statement about your company, the years you've been in business, your services offered, etc. This can often be copied and pasted from your website or other existing marketing materials that you might already use.

Other Rental Items offered: If you have other items that you rent along with your tents be sure to list those items below.
